

SPARTACAN RIOTS CONTINUE WITH MANY DEATHS

55 Killed, 170 Injured
—Property Loss 18,000,000 Marks

BERLIN, Saturday March 15.—(By The Associated Press.)—Fifty-five persons have been killed and one hundred and seventy wounded in the riots at Halle. Two hundred and eighty persons have been arrested for pillaging. The value of the stolen property is estimated at 18,000,000 marks.

As a result of the plundering in the sections of the country outside of Halle a state of siege has been proclaimed over Ditteldorf, Muencheln, Merseburg and Koenen.

Reeling on the part of peasants in Wendschlag, near Osnabruck, Bavaria, forced the visiting food commission to seek the protection of the military authorities. The rural producers refused to make declarations of their food stores and drove off the officials with pitchforks and clubs.

Appeal for Volunteers

Altho last week's Spartacan uprising was put down the government is already taking measures to prevent a representation. The Prussian minister of education has issued an appeal to young collegians to join the volunteer corps to save the fatherland against Bolshevism in the east and anarchy and civil war at home.

The minister of defense, Herr Noske, has issued a decree imposing up to one year's imprisonment for interference with street car employees or traffic or sabotage of telegraph wires, cars or other material. This is intended to make it impossible for the majority from working in case of another strike.

Spartacan attempts to import arms from outside of Berlin are being checked by the military forces at railroad stations who have already confiscated a quantity of arms and ammunition.

Arrest Leaders

Government troops which are clearing the suburbs of Rahnsdorf and Friedrichshagen of Spartacans report that they have arrested two independent Socialist leaders who prove to have distributed arms to other independents and to communists and started riots.

The chairman of the soldiers council in Wilhelmshaven who is also an independent Socialist has been arrested together with a soldier because they distributed weapons to soldiers in the hospital there.

Two aldermen of Friedrichshagen, two laborers and another of the Soviet all of them independents, have been taken into custody for causing loyal soldiers stationed in Friedrichshagen to be disarmed at the beginning of the general strike. It is believed probable that the report was given out owing to a desire by the government to expose the connection of the independents with the Spartacans and the uprising. It is reported also that the troops found large quantities of arms and ammunition in Lichtenberg, which suburb has now been cleared of the Spartacans.

Glass Asks Five Million For War Risk Bureau

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Secretary Glass has asked President Wilson to set aside more than $5,000,000 from the presidential war emergency fund to cover the cost of continued operation of the war risk insurance bureau for the next few months until congress appropriates funds for the bureau. The president has not yet given an answer and if he does not make the money available the activities of the war risk bureau may be greatly curtailed.

The bureau has funds to cover allotment and allowances checks to be sent out during the remainder of March and during April.

Unless some available funds are found by early in May, allotment and allowance checks may be greatly delayed.

The funds asked will be spent only for administrative expenses for operating the bureau and not for actual covering of allotment and allowance checks. With approximately 15,000 employees the bureau's payroll now is more than $1,000,000 a month. About 1,200,000 checks for allotments, allowances, insurance and compensation now are mailed monthly amounting in the aggregate to more than $40,000,000. Nearly half of this sum comes from the war department and represents soldiers' allotments. There is no shortage in the funds for allotments since this is deducted from soldiers' pay but the funds for allowances added to the allotments are limited.

DECLARES WILSON IS FAVORING THE GERMANS

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Senator Poindexter of Washington issued a statement tonight in connection with Paris despatches saying that the American peace delegates were proceeding on the supposition that the league of nations covenant would be included in the peace treaty and alluding to the statement of French Foreign Minister Pichon that such was not likely. The American delegates, he said, "have consistently tended to oppose the French and to favor the Germans." He asserted that the "American people, however, are for France."

The Washington senator charged that the president has been the chief cause of the long delay in making peace.

"The greatest progress towards peace," he continued, "was made during the president's brief visit to America. If he had stayed away a week longer peace would have been consummated. Immediately upon his re-arrival in France the peace treaty is again delayed."

MAINTENANCE OF LABOR BUREAUS ASKED

CHICAGO, March 17.—An appeal to mayors was made today by Dr. P. L. Brereton, special representative, and Mark L. Crawford, federal director of the United States employment service to use their influence to provide support for the maintenance of the federal labor bureaus for returning soldiers and sailors for three months. After this time it is expected that congress will appropriate funds to put the employment service on a pre-war basis.

Dr. Brereton stated that the service would be continued in Galesburg, Ill., because the landlord, electric light and telephone companies had donated free rent and service. The city council voted to pay the salaries of the staff. Other cities should follow the example of Galesburg, he said.

LAGER BREWERS WILL RESUME SALE OF BEER

(By The Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, March 17.—The Lager Beer Brewers board of trade of New York representing 42 brewing concerns in New York and New Jersey announced today that on advice of counsel its members would resume at once sale of beer containing 2.34 per cent alcoholic contents. This was forbidden by a ruling of the internal revenue department which interpreted President Wilson's proclamation effective December 1 last. Upon a representation by the board to Elihu Root and William D. Guthrie counsel for the organization that beer of the alcoholic strength specified was not intoxicating, the attorney advised the organization today that sale of the product would not be contrary to law. The opinion held that the internal revenue department had acted without authority in decreeing that sale of beer containing more than one-half of one per cent of alcohol was contrary to the president's proclamation forbidding the use of foodstuffs in brewed products except those which were non-intoxicating.

No Changes Necessary.

The brewers' action anticipating enforcement May 1, next of the regulation limiting use of cereals to "non-intoxicants" containing one-half of one per cent of alcohol was taken under the internal revenue rule permitting until that date, manufacture of 2.34 per cent beer, but requiring that the product be de-alcoholized to one-half of one per cent before being shipped for sale. As the brewers have been making 2.34 per cent brew since January 30, when the president issued a proclamation permitting the production of "near beer" no change in manufacturing methods will be necessary it was stated to carry out the plan decided upon.

Assuming that the government "may summarily attempt or threaten to enforce" the revenue, the revenue department's interpretation, Messrs Root and Guthrie advised the brewers in this event that suit in equity be brought "to enjoin any wrongful interference with your business or arrest of your employees."

Challenge to Government.

Announcement of the brewers' intention to ignore the government definition of non-intoxicants was made following unanimous adoption by their board of trade of a resolution advocating legal action to test the validity of the presidential proclamations and internal revenue rulings based on the food conservation laws of August 10, 1917, and Nov. 21, 1918.

The latter act providing for wartime prohibition already has been challenged as to its constitutionality in a stockholders suit filed here in the federal court. The board also recommended that its members proceed according to the Root, Guthrie opinion and that in case of proceedings or threatened proceedings against any of them by the commissioner of internal revenue, the defendants at once communicate with the board, so that there may be harmony and consistency on the conduct of legal proceedings to protect the rights of the brewers.

The opinion was addressed to Christian W. Feignspan of Newark, president of the United States Brewers' association with headquarters in New York City, and associated, Messrs Root and Guthrie based their opinion it was stated upon an assurance by their clients that malt liquors which contain not to exceed 2.75 per cent of alcohol by weight or 3.3 per cent by volume, are not intoxicating.

The lawyers declared that "there is no provision in the acts of congress which authorizes any executive officer of the government to determine what malt liquors are in fact intoxicating or to prescribe any fixed test or standard for determining when malt beverages shall be deemed intoxicating. They added the opinion that the proclamation of the president dated January 30 and March 4, 1919, authorize the use of grain and other food products in the production of malt liquors which are not in fact intoxicating and that the act of Nov. 21, 1918, containing the war-time prohibition clause, does not apply to non-intoxicating beers.

"The conclusion we have reached, therefore," the opinion continues is that brewers may lawfully disregard the interpretation placed by the commissioner of internal revenue upon the act of Nov. 21, 1918, and upon the president's proclamations above referred to insofar as such interpretation would prohibit the manufacture of malt beverages containing more than one-half of one per cent and not to exceed 2.75 per cent of alcohol by weight or 3.3 per cent by volume."

BETHLEHEM STEEL CO. EARNINGS $57,188,769

NEW YORK, March 17.—Net income of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation for 1918, aggregated $57,188,769, compared with $58,979,264 in 1917, according to the annual report issued today.

Net earnings amounted to $15,320,000 against $27,320,738, the previous year, largely due to increased operations.

Statements to shareholders by Chairman Charles M. Schwab and President E. G. Grace, emphasized the fact that the end of the war had necessitated the charging off of extraordinary amounts of profits to cover losses in values of plant and equipment installed for the manufacture of war materials. Gross sales amounted to $448,419,808 as compared with $298,929,530 in 1917.

Virtually all the business of 1918 was for account of the United States and entente allies.

General Pershing Bids Farewell To Rainbow Unit

(By The Associated Press.)

COBLENZ, Sunday, March 16.—General Pershing said goodbye to the boys of the Forty-second division today. In a farewell address to the troops of the Rainbow unit, who are preparing to start for home the first week in April, the American commander-in-chief wished them all good luck in the peaceful occupations into which they will go on the other side of the Atlantic.

The inspection and review of the division took place in a great field near Remagen on the west bank of the Rhine. General Pershing spoke from the rear end of a wagon with the soldiers gathered about him to more than 20,000 men.

Before his address the commander-in-chief presented one congressional medal of honor, two distinguished service medals and 46 distinguished service crosses to officers and men of the division. The medal of honor was pinned by General Pershing on Corporal Sidney Manning of the 167th infantry for leading his platoon during an attack on the Oureq after its commanders had fallen. Despite wounds he had suffered, Manning led the men forward and gained and held an important position in the face of terrific enemy fire. All but seven members of the platoon were killed or wounded. Manning himself was wounded nine times in this attack. When the United States entered the war Manning was a farmer boy near Brewerton, Ala.

The distinguished service medals went to Brigadier General Douglas MacArthur and Col. William Hughes, Jr. The several villages along the way German civilians greeted him with shouts of "hoch Pershing." The commander's visit to the area of occupation was advertised by the Germans in their newspapers and otherwise.

STARTS FLIGHT ACROSS ATLANTIC

LONDON, March 17.—It is reported that a flight across the Atlantic Ocean is now being attempted by a French lieutenant named Fontan. He is reported to have started from the French African Port of Dakar Senegambia for Pernambuco, Brazil, by way of the Cape Verde Islands and the St. Paul Rocks.

If Lieutenant Fontan has attempted a Trans-Atlantic flight, he has chosen the shortest route across seas, it being about 1,800 miles from Dakar to Pernambuco. The Cape Verde Islands lie just west of the point of departure while flying southwesterly he would reach the St. Paul Rocks in the South Atlantic just northeast of the Peninsula on which Pernambuco is situated.

Fontan arrived at Dakar from France by air a few days ago. He is using a Condor machine. A supply of petrol is said to be awaiting him at St. Paul's Rocks.

The aviator is reported to have escorted ships with him. The weather is said to be unfavorable. The foregoing story was related tonight by British airmen who claim they have been reliably informed.

Tax Slackers Must Pay In Full To Avoid Penalty

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Persons who neglected to pay the first installment of income taxes last Saturday have lost the installment payment privilege and must now pay their entire tax upon demand of a revenue collector.

To avoid the penalty of 25 per cent in addition to the regular tax these persons may now submit belated returns with a sworn statement of the reason for delinquency. Without this the penalty will be imposed. These policies announced today by Internal Revenue Commissioner Roper are intended to grant a degree of leniency to those who for some legitimate reason failed to file their returns when they were due. By law, however, the installment payment privilege is removed from all failing to make payments on time. A revenue bureau statement follows:

"Revenue collectors will accept all delinquent returns presented after March 15 and deposit any payment made therewith under law failure to make first payment by March 15 automatically makes the whole tax payable immediately. Tax payers filing their income returns subsequent to March 15 therefore, must pay in full, but if the taxpayer submits a partial payment he will be notified of the balance due later. In reference to the penalty of 25 per cent additional tax for all delinquents the policy will be to proceed sympathetically according with the regulations permitting the taxpayer if he desires to file an affidavit within ten days explaining the cause of delinquency."

The statement was taken to indicate that persons who paid their taxes later than Saturday may have as much as sixty days in which to pay the remaining three quarters.

In some cities collectors' offices were unable to accommodate the last hour rush of applicants and those returned today to file returns in person and make payments. Some of the requirement that possible that all installments on demand may not be enforced.

Reports showed that hundreds of thousands of small taxpayers paid their entire taxes Saturday.

Officials Discuss Means of Getting Soldiers Jobs

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Governmental agencies called together by the council of national defense organized today the emergency committee on employment for soldiers and sailors as a step towards filling the gap caused by demobilization of 80 per cent of the field force of the United States employment service for which congress failed to provide funds. A committee on plans was appointed to collect immediately all available information as to work being done and prepare a comprehensive plan of operations.

"In entering into this situation," the council seeks merely to act as a clearing house for utilizing rapidly all agencies dealing with the unemployment problems," Governor B. Clarkson, director of the council said.

Col. Arthur Woods, a member of the committee on plans declared it was the solemn obligation of the government to help service men in returning to civil life.

Many of the men feel they have been improved by their experience in the army and are ambitious for something better than before. "I feel that this ambition should be encouraged. However, during the period of readjustment these men should resume their old employment if nothing better shows at once," Colonel Woods said it was not intended to create any elaborate machinery for the work, but to use the skeleton organization of the U. S. Employment Service and the existing 2,000 volunteer bureaus.

He declared nothing could be accomplished by creating something for nothing. The discharge of worthy civilians and said readjustments could be made which would make unnecessary any such action.

Elliott Goodwin, general secretary of the chamber of commerce of the United States announced that an appeal was being made to employers to assist in the work.

GERMAN PEOPLE ARE DISSATISFIED WITH AGREEMENT

(By The Associated Press.)

Disappointed With Amount of Food Allies Will Furnish

BERLIN, Sunday, March 16.—By the Associated Press.—Indications are that the average German is not enthusiastic over the amount of food he is likely to get under the provisioning agreement with the allies. After his first feeling of enthusiasm over the signing of the long-desired arrangement, he immediately began to figure out his share of the provisions under the terms of the document, an extended summary of which was published officially this morning, and such comment as is made reflects an undiminished feeling of disappointment at the quantity provided.

This was particularly the case because the newspapers, in reducing the totals to figures in pounds per capita take as the basis of their estimates the population before and work out the result at ten pounds monthly per person. Instead of the approximate eighteen pounds upon the basis of a population of 45,000,000 excluding the self-providers on the farms, as the food ministry contemplates doing. This means that the allotment would be half pound of flour and a tenth of a pound of fats per day to supplement the waning German food stocks.

In commenting on the agreement Vorwaerts predicts that the independent socialists and the Spartacans will make capital of the fact that there is a proviso in the agreement that no food shall be allotted to those who are unemployed through their own fault. The newspaper says the workmen will be told that the government induced the entente to insert this proviso to prevent them from using the stock as a political weapon.

The newspaper declares that in reality the proviso was contained in the draft agreement submitted by the inter-allied delegates to the Brussels conference. The delegates undoubtedly insisted upon it. Vorwaerts thinks in order to make Germany financed as large a proportion of the supplies as possible by means of exports, so that Germany's gold resources might be reserved for indemnity payments. The newspaper characterizes the agreement as anything but a success.

FAVOR PROVIDING FOR OFFICE PRESIDENT

BERLIN, Saturday, March 15.—During the debate today in the chamber of the new Prussian diet a conservative speaker argued in favor of providing for the office of president of Prussia in the new provisional constitution. This was objected to on the ground that it would set an unfortunate example to the other unfortunate states and would be interpreted as an attempt to create a substitute for a monarchy. The assembly postponed a vote on the demand of the independent socialists that the state of seige in Berlin.

The party lineup in the new diet has not yet been determined. The present indications point to a working bloc of the majority socialists and Democrats who jointly have a majority of nine-tenths.

U. S. SOLDIERS FAVOR UNIVERSAL TRAINING SYSTEM

(By The Associated Press.)

Opinion Expressed by Selective Service Men of 12th Division

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Overwhelming endorsement of a universal military training system coupled with equally strong support for the existing disciplinary relationship between officers and men of the army was expressed by a representative group of the selective service men of the 12th division, Camp Devens, Mass., just before the organization was demobilized last January. The opinions of the men numbering 1,330, with an average length of service of 1.7 months were obtained thru a carefully arranged questionnaire system with every safeguard provided to insure absolutely free expression of opinion and with such distribution in the division as to make the answers representative. The report on the inquiry was made public today at the war department. It is headed:

"Our military system as it appeared to America's citizen soldiers."

Altho half the men questioned were rated as dissatisfied with military life the report shows that 89.5 per cent of the replies expressed the soldier's belief that he personally had benefitted by his army life. 79 per cent were glad of their training aside from feelings of patriotism and 88 per cent favored universal military training as a national policy. A substantial majority agreed that the existing relationship between officers for France when the armistice was signed. It then suffered more than two months of waiting for demobilization before the questionnaires were sent out and the officers who devised and supervised the inquiry point out that it was calculated to reflect army morale at its low ebb.

Every provision was made to ascertain the views of discontented men in order that the results might have real value to the army. The commanders of the eighty companies were furnished with 18 questionnaires each and instructed to give them to six men of high intelligence and rated as good soldiers, to six others of equal intelligence but supposed to be discontented with army life to three good soldiers of average intelligence and to three others of average intelligence who had indicated views hostile to military discipline. The men were told to submit their answers only immediately upon or after discharge so no fear of subsequent action by their officers would impede the free expression of their views.

Ten questions were submitted each representing impressions to be gained from the service. As to the disciplinary relations 677 men answered it was necessary against 135 who held it unnecessary.

Critique Young Officers.

In the individual answers was found material which prompts the report to state that "many criticisms were directed against the over bearing manner seen in some young officers."

On universal military training the answer were emphatic. Of 1,380 replies turned in 1,175 were in favor of good citizenship, physical benefits and character building were the chief reasons of approval assigned.

The largest number of men making recommendations to the form of service urged six months as a sufficient period and thought it should be given during the 18th year. A considerable number thought it should be a part of school or college courses, and eight men exhibited a view that more than a year of training should be required and only 68 favored more than six months.

In expressing how they would look back on their service 1,088 men reported feelings of pride or pleasure or both, while 162 merely said they were "not sorry."

HARD ON SHOES? THEN READ THIS

"I marched through the mud of Florance, through a large part of the Lorraine sectors, and lastly from Chateau Thierry to Fismes, and my shoes with Neolin Soles are still in good condition. For five months I alternated these shoes with two other pairs, which are now worn out, but the Neolin Soles look as if they had another five good months of wear left in them." Written by Lieut. Ederly Austin, American Expeditionary Forces, France—October 17th, 1918.

This is exceptional service, all army men will agree. Civilians rarely give their shoes usage such as this; but if they are hard on shoes, and want to cut their shoe bills down, let them try Neolin-soled shoes. These shoes are obtainable at most shoe stores in many good styles for men, women and children.

Or have your old shoes re-bottomed with Neolin Soles. You will find these scientifically made soles are comfortable and waterproof, as well as long-wearing. They are made by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., Akron, Ohio, who also make Wingfoot Heels—our need to outwear all other heels.

THE RUSSIAN REVOLUTION

(By Mrs. Henry W. English)

At a recent meeting of the College Hill club Mrs. Henry W. English presented a paper on "The Russian Revolution." The paper presented such an informing resume of a difficult subject that permission to print it was secured. The article is necessarily lengthy and will be presented in installments.

In March, 1917, by revolution, Czarism was gone and Freedom seemed to stand there on Russian soil shading her bewildered eyes against the sun of victory, amazed at her own deed.

But Liberty is intoxicating, and within a few days after President Wilson in the west made the wonderful announcement that "the world must be made safe for democracy," that by a turn of events in the east an equally vital issue is presented to the world. "How the world is to be made safe from democracy."

We trust that the Russian people, and the peoples in the surrounding countries affected by the recent topsy turvy condition of affairs, will learn the greatest lessons of life, that to be free you must work very hard and struggle very hard. There must be organization and there must be discipline.

The great explosion came and when the tumult and dust cleared away, there will be a strangely altered Europe and world.

I desire to discuss in this paper, what forces brought about the revolution. My details are gathered in the main from a book entitled "The Russian Revolution," by one Levine, a correspondent of one of the New York papers, who happened to be in Russia during these stirring times. The book was compiled hastily and was published shortly after the revolution. The writer evidently did not foresee the unfortunate course of events produced by the inexperience and ignorance of the forces in control after the downfall of the old regime. One should read a series of articles written by the granddaughter of General Grant, the wife of a Russian prince, which throws a great deal of light on the situation. Also the book by the "Mad Monk of Russia," to get a true insight into Russian character and the ignorance and superstition of the masses.

There is a great deal of analogy between the French revolution and the Russian revolution. More than one might suspect. It has been said that there were no great men in Russia. But in that respect most of the conspicuous characters in the French revolution came into prominence after the revolution, and were in fact created by the revolution. It is the same in the Russian revolution. The time has not yet elapsed for the Russian Napoleon to appear on the scene. In the French revolution we had for the principal royal characters, the King, Louis XVI, and the Queen, Marie Antoinette, and the Dauphin, the heir apparent. In the Russian revolution we have the Czar, the Czarina, and Alexis the heir apparent to the throne. The French royal characters were all killed. What became of the Dauphin is a mystery to this day. It is perhaps the same with the Russian Czar is dead; we do not know what has become of his family. The Queen, Marie Antoinette, was the hated Austrian woman. The Czarina was the German and was justly suspected by the people, as pro-German in the great war. In the French revolution we had the Duke of Orleans, Necker, Lafayette, Mirabeau, Danton, Robespierre, Marat, the States General and finally the great Napoleon.

In Russia we have the four Dumas, the Zemstvos, Prince Lvoff, who was good; Col. Myasoyed, who was executed by Grand Duke Nicholas for treason, the monk, and rogue, Rasputin; Boris Sturmer the protégé of Rasputin, Protopopov, the traitor to democracy; the dark forces, who represent the German influence; the occult forces, who were associated with Rasputin, and had great influence for we upon the Tsarina and her husband. There was Sazonov, who was a close friend of Great Britain, and a staunch supporter of the Entente cause in Russia. He was the chief obstacle in the path of the dark forces toward the attainment of their goal, which was to effect a separate peace with Germany. Also Prime Minister Goremykin, who was head of the government at the beginning of the war; a bureaucrat of the old school, who served under four Czar. He was 75 years old, and to him this was no new kind of war, just one of the habitual wars which were being waged in this world at almost regular intervals. He saw no need of any change in the traditional policy of the government. He managed the ship of state with all the stupidity of the old school bureaucracy, was incompetent in abundance but no disloyal to the allies. (The assassination of Rasputin occurred two months before the revolution.) After the revolution appear Kerensky, Korniloff, Lenin and Trotsky, and many others.

Time may bring these characters out developed into great and conspicuous actors in the historical drama now enacting. It may be that when the fog over Russia is lifted, what now seems chaos will be clear and connected and as we become more familiar with these people of strange ideas and stranger names, the whole thing will be quite as thrilling as a drama as that reign of terror that convulsed Europe a century ago. To understand the causes which lead to the Russian Revolution, we must go back to the French Revolution. The two are connected events. Many do not realize that the overthrow of Czarism was the work of generations. You have heard of the avalanche in the mountains, started by the throwing of a snow ball, causing the destruction of entire villages, in the valley below. We hardly consider the snow ball as the prime and moving factor. Rather it is the weeks and weeks of frost and thaw producing the nice equilibrium required, which makes this awful experiment possible. And so it is with a revolution. It was not the taking of the Bastille that overthrew the aristocracy in France. It is not the riots in Petrograd, and the going over by a few regiments from the army to the side of the mob, followed by the abdication of the Emperor, that makes the revolution in Russia. Events of this kind are but the fluctuations of the mercury in the political barometer. They are effects and indications lying far remote.

Napoleon invaded Russia, and afterwards Russia invaded France. The Russian officers coming back from France had become inoculated with the virus of freedom and democracy. A secret society was formed of returning officers for the purpose of discussing and disseminating democratic ideas. It was the idea at first, to endeavor to influence the government; and the Czar was influenced, and planned to grant a constitution and a large measure of self government to Russia. Then the reactionary forces gained control and all was set at naught, and a more revolutionary program was elaborated by the society. It developed into a national organization, with branches in the various parts of Russia. Way back, before any of us remember, 75 or 80 years ago, a plot, which was the result of this movement, was discovered, and wholesale arrests and executions followed, and many were exiled to Siberia. These were known in history as the Decembrists. But the severe punishments only fanned the flame of the movement. After that, from 1825 to 1855, we had the "Iron Czar," Nicholas I. The revolutionary movement was in a quiescent state. When Alexander II ascended the throne, the pressure of public opinion for radical reform was too strong to be resisted. The emancipation of the serfs in 1861 was one of a series of reforms, which for many reasons was considered an empty gift and a half measure, and only stimulated the revolutionary activity. An attitude of cruelty was assumed by the government, and in retaliation the movement for freedom assumed a wholly terrorist form, toward the government, and assassination of high officials was adopted as a policy, by the radical forces as the only possible means of waging war against the bitterest foes of democracy. As a climax of this the Czar himself was assassinated in 1891 by a revolutionist. Wholesale arrests and exile to Siberia followed. Reforms heretofore granted were nullified, and naturally the wave of dissatisfaction grew, engulfing larger and larger sections of the heterogeneous population of the country.

The government promised many reforms, and invariably retracted each and every one of them—all save the promise of Nicholas to convolve a parliament. In April, 1906, the first Duma met. But it wouldn't do. It wasn't exactly socialist—but the dominant party had the hardihood to stand for a limited monarchy—and the first Duma was dissolved.

We haven't time to speak of the effects of the Crimean war, of the war with Japan, or of the massacres of Jews and intellectuals, which convulsed the whole nation. From the reactionary standpoint, a thief or a murderer was a much safer and better citizen than an educated man, who had the least ideas on a political question. The second Duma was convened, developed the same undesirable characteristics, and shared the same fate as the first duma. The third duma was more to the government's liking. In a word it was nothing but a tool in the hands of a bureaucratic government. Its term expired in 1912, when the fourth duma was elected. This was the duma of the revolution and was destined to play an historic role. This duma, at the time of its election, was reactionary and subservient, but during the war gradually assumed a progressive character, and when the upheaval of the revolution came, served as a nucleus around which the new government could form.

What is Rheumatism? Why Suffer from It?

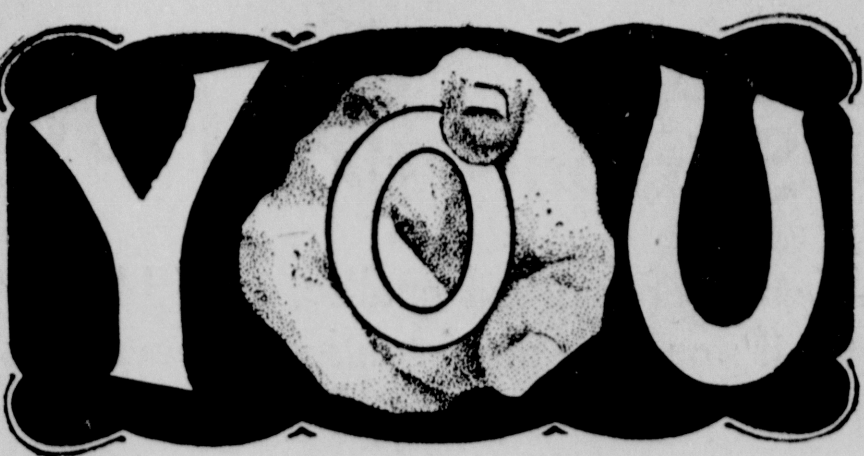

Sufferers Should Realize
That It is a Blood Infection and Can Be Permanently Relieved

Rheumatism means that the blood has become saturated with uric acid poison.

It does not require medical advice to know that good health is absolutely dependent upon pure blood. When the muscles and joints become sore and drawn with rheumatism, it is not a wise thing to take a little salve and by rubbing it on the sore spot, expect to get rid of your rheumatism. You must go deeper than that, down deep into the blood where the poison lurks and which is not effected by salves and ointments.

It is important that you rid yourself of this terrible disease before it goes too far. S. S. S. is the blood purifier that has stood the test of time, having been in constant use for more than fifty years. It will do for you what it has done for thousands of others, drive the rheumatic poisons out of your blood, making it pure and strong and enabling it to make you well. S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable, it will do the work and not harm the most delicate stomach.

GEORGE H. WILSON
Quincy, Ill.

Republican Candidate
for Justice of the Supreme Court

Election, Tues., April 1,

Mr. Wilson was born at Barry, Ill., in 1866; graduated from Illinois College, Jacksonville, Illinois, in 1888, with the degree of A. B., valedictorian of his class; received degree of M. A. from the same institution in 1891. Attended Union College of Law in Chicago. Practiced law in Quincy since 1891. State's Attorney for Adams county, 1896-1901; Corporation Counsel of Quincy 1907-1908; State Representative 36th District in 46th, 47th, 48th and 49th General Assemblies. While in the legislature he was a member of the Judicial and Judicial Department and Practice committees, and had charge of the program of the committee on Uniform State Laws of the State Bar Association, of which he is a member of the Board of Governors. Is Republican State Central Committeeman for the 15th Congressional District and was Chairman of the Constitutional Convention Campaign committee for the 15th Congressional District. Is a Mason and a Methodist. Is the son of Rev. H. Wilson, a Methodist minister, and lived in Waverly from 1884 to 1887, Jacksonville from 1887 to 1888. Graduated from Illinois College (as above), married Francis W. Hall, daughter of John W. Hall of Jacksonville in 1894.

United States flag and was covered with a great variety of flowers, wreaths and designs contributed by sympathetic friends.

The bearers were members of Company C, and were Ezra New, Floyd Rehmyer, Harry Bray, Carter Clark, Homer Ranson, George Lazenby, Glover Flynn and Edward Gerst.

Those in attendance from a distance were Mrs. Herbert H. Hughes and father, Wiley Blair of Dallas, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Hughes of Cleburn, Texas; Mrs. Gertrude Brooks and H. D. Ward, Jackson, Miss.

Few persons have gone from our midst who will be more sadly missed. Sergt. Hughes was especially fond of his mother and even in the stillness of his last hours his thoughts were of her and he longed to see her face once more.

He was a great favorite in his company and was often mentioned by his fellow soldiers. He started home full of hope and cheer but grim death claimed him while on the steamer with seven thousand others.

From Captain Wright
His commander sent the following to Mrs. Hughes:

At Sea on Board U. S. S. "America" March 8, 1919.
Mrs. Josephine Hughes,
403 North College Ave.,
Jacksonville, Ill.
Dear Madam:

As your son's commanding officer, it becomes my unpleasant duty to report his death, which occurred at 10:30 last night. I had known Sergeant Hughes only since February 20th at which time I took command of his casual company, which was organized for return to the United States—yet in that short period I came to admire him for the real soldier that everyone instinctively recognized him to be. I am sure that ever man of the company shares my shocked feeling of loss today. Our deepest sympathy goes out to you in the hope that by sharing your bereavement we may lessen its poignancy.

Your boy's record is one of splendid achievement. He fought with the British on the Somme during the great summer offensive and took part in the final victorious drive of the American army in the Argonne-Meuse sector during October and November, 1918. After the cessation of hostilities he was in Luxembourg with the army of occupation until he obtained permission to come home for immediate discharge so that he could be with you.

When we came aboard the boat at Brest, France, on March 4th, he seemed to be in perfect health.

although I have found out today from some of his comrades that he had been on the verge of giving up and going to the hospital for several days before we sailed, complaining of headache and of feeling bad in general. He certainly kept his trouble concealed from me, as I never heard the slightest complaint from him—he was always in the highest of spirits. All his thoughts were of home and mother. I am convinced now that he simply fought off giving himself over to medical treatment for fear he would miss his boat home. On the afternoon of March 5th, he became very seasick. On discovering that he had quite a fever, I had him taken to the hospital at once. Pneumonia developed rapidly and this was fatally complicated on the seventh when spinal meningitis set in. I can assure you that everything possible was done to save his life, but all efforts were in vain against the combination of maladies which struck him so suddenly.

The sergeant was delirious all day of the seventh and talked of you almost continually. During his preparation for his trip home, he was full of anxiety to get back, and was always planning what he was going to do for you in the future.

I want you to feel with me that he gave his life for the Nation just as fully as if he had fallen on the field of battle where he braved so many dangers without flinching. It is the mothers who have borne the real suffering in this war—we men had the wild excitement and thrill of battle to keep going, while you must needs wait and wait through all the long days of uncertainty. Next to little children, I am sure that God has reserved the highest place in His kingdom for mothers and their soldier sons who fight the battles of right and justice.

May that feeling and the pride of a sacrifice so nobly offered on the altar of freedom sustain you in your sorrow.

Respectfully,
Walter F. Wright,

WILL VACATE STREET FOR HIGH SCHOOL

Council Favors Board of Education Plan With Reference to Court Street—Flag Stone Walks to Be Investigated.

At the meeting of the city council Monday morning Albert C. Metcalf and Dr. W. P. Duncan appeared in behalf of the board of education and asked for the vacation of Court street between Fayette and Kosciusko streets. The council indicated a willingness to co-operate in this matter. Some other matters of importance came up for consideration in the brief session held. R. L. Pyatt, city clerk, is detained at home by illness and Commissioner Widmayer was elected clerk pro tem.

Dr. Duncan and Mr. Metcalf who appeared for the board of education, had with them a plat indicating the board's reason for asking the vacation of Court street. After the proposed high school is built it is probable that some sort of passage way will connect the building with the David Prince school. Furthermore, the high school construction will be such that should an increase in space later be needed, a unit can be added on the north and would thus stretch out to the ground which is now Court street.

All the members of the council indicated a willingness to approve this suggestion and an ordinance providing for the vacation of the street was given a first reading. Mayor Rodgers expressed the view that a movement should also be made to pave Kosciusko street with asphalt from State street to Jordan street. He said that Jordan street residents are desirous of paving and that such an improvement would surround the high school and the eighth grade building on all sides with paving.

Commissioner White made mention of the sidewalk conditions which resulted in the breaking of the flagstone in front of the Gilliam undertaking rooms Saturday night. Reference was made to a similar sidewalk flagstone break which had occurred within the last year or two, in front of the Miller Bros., R. T. Cassel and J. A. Long stores. There are other flagstones on West State street which are in bad shape and the whole matter was referred to Commissioners White and Martin and Engineer Henderson. It is quite possible that some of the sidewalks will be condemned or else supporting foundation required.

Commissioner Vasconcellos said that the man and woman who fell thru the pavement Saturday night had a very fortunate escape. If one half of the stone had not been caught against the brick wall it would have fallen on the unfortunate and would have either caused death or very serious injury.

The ordinance was read providing for the regular election which will be held Tuesday, April 15. The second reading was also given to the ordinance granting to Morgan county commissioners a portion of Morton avenue on condition that the county build a hard road there.

A resolution was presented and adopted providing for an asphalt pavement from Webster avenue to Finley street. The engineer's estimate of expense for this is $8,416. The hearing was set for Friday, April 4, at 4 p. m. The council adjourned at 12 o'clock until 2 o'clock when returns of the recent election were canvassed and some other action taken.

Both the young ladies expect to be in Jacksonville during their vacation sometime in the late summer.

WINCHESTER

Winchester, Ill., March 17.—The general assembly of the Woman's club met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. David Hains. After the business session a pleasing program was given. A vocal duet was given by Mrs. Fred Neat and Mrs. Ada Lankford. Then came an address, "The Soldiers' Memorial and the Community High School," by Prof. C. W. Smith. This was much enjoyed and is a subject of special interest. A lengthy discussion followed. Then came a vocal number by Mrs. Thomas Smithson, and short talks by members in regard to next year's program. At the close of the meeting came a vocal selection by Miss Dorothy Hainsfurther.

Miss Dorothy Cox returned Sunday afternoon to her school near Manchester. The funeral of Stephen Hamilton occurred Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Christian church. Rev. Mr. Evans officiating. The church was well filled with relatives and friends. Music was furnished by Mrs. Gertrude Demereth, Dr. and Mrs. B. F. Webster and C. W. Smith. The pall bearers were Fred and Link Blackburn, George Yelm, Thomas Hamilton, Fred Hamilton and Nathan Hamilton. Interment was in the Winchester cemetery.

George Hogan has purchased the Will Cherry property in the east part of town and will be given immediate possession.

The 13 months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Smith passed away Sunday night after an illness of ten days with influenza. The funeral will be held from the home at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning. Other members of the family are all ill with influenza.

George Hogan received a message about 8:30 o'clock Monday evening stating that the Bernard Bunch barn near Manchester had been struck by lightning and was burning. One horse was killed and a quantity of feed burned. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

A marriage license was granted Monday morning to J. Milo James of Glasgow, Peoria county, Ill., and Miss Nellie Bernice Daily of Bryant, Fulton county. The young people were married by Rev. Mr. Evans at the Christian church parsonage Monday morning.

The Winchester lights were out Monday night. It is possible that lightning struck the wires at some point and caused the disturbance.

WELL KNOWN PEOPLE MARRIED IN PEORIA

Miss Fern Karr Is Bride of Frank Morrison—Will Live in Akron, Ohio.

The Peoria Star gives the following account of the recent marriage of Miss Fern Karr to Mr. Frank Morrison in Peoria. The groom is a nephew of Mrs. Thomas Heaton and Mrs. G. C. Guthrie of this city.

The wedding of Miss Fern Karr daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Karr, to Frank Morrison, son of Mrs. Kathryn Morrison, which was solemnized at noon Saturday, was marked by the greatest simplicity. The ceremony was performed in St. Paul's Episcopal church, by Episcopal dispensation, the Rev. Howard Linwood Bowen reading the service in the presence of some two hundred guests.

There were no decorations, in respect to the Lenten season, either at the church or in the home, where a luncheon was served to 35 guests, members of the immediate families and intimate friends.

Miss Elizabeth Anderson at the organ played as the guests assembled, and at 12 noon the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March was a signal for the bride party to enter. Miss Helen Hadfield, as maid of honor, came first, gown in orchid georgette over satin, and wearing a wide brimmed black hat with trimmings of bright blue ribbon and tiny roses. She carried an arm bouquet of pink sweet peas. Miss Marian Threshie followed in a satin gown of electric blue, and black poke bonnet with wreath of bright red daisies and long streamers of blue. She also carried pink sweet peas.

The bride was escorted by her father. Her gown was of soft cream silk with draped skirt, round neck and elbow sleeves, and she was enveloped in a tulle veil which was caught with lilacs of the valley. Her bouquet was of bride's roses with a shower of lilies. They met the groom and his best man, Fred Morrison, his brother, at the altar with the rector.

During the ceremony Miss Anderson played softly "I Love You Truly."

Mr. and Mrs. Morrison left at 5 o'clock for Chicago; and will go directly to Akron, Ohio where they will make their home.

SEEKS HISTORY OF THIS COUNTY

Joseph H. Reynolds of 6636 Stewart avenue, Chicago, has written Mayor Rodgers asking if someone cannot be found who will donate a history of Morgan county to the Newberry library of Chicago. In his letter Mr. Reynolds said: "I had occasion to visit the genealogical department of the Newberry library recently and find that almost every county in the state has its library there except Morgan county. My ancestors came from this county about 1819 or 1820, so I am interested in this county. The Newberry library is a fine institution and has many thousands of county histories, all I believe, donated to the institution."

STATE LIVESTOCK MEN HAVE ORGANIZED

All Interests Represented in One Big Association—F. E. Drury Heads Swine Breeders.

Not long since mention was made of the merging of the various agricultural organizations of the state into the Illinois Agricultural Association. This union came about because members of the various societies in somewhat similar work felt that by a union of effort larger results would be obtained. Something of the same action was taken more recently with reference to livestock and now the Illinois Livestock Association has been organized, with the Swine Breeders, Sheep Breeders, Horse Breeders and Cattle Feeders Association of subsidiaries.

John G. Imboden of Decatur is the president of the Livestock Association and Frank E. Drury of Orleans is president of the Swine Breeders Association. By virtue of that office Mr. Drury is also director of the Livestock Association and further he is a member of its executive committee. Livestock men realize that there are large problems now confronting them which will be of still greater importance as the months go by, and as they cope with the difficulties which the after the war conditions are pretty sure to bring about in the world's livestock markets.

There are various questions about shipping and marketing which are also of special importance and the reorganization plan worked out in the manner above is for the purpose of meeting these conditions.

As mentioned, Mr. J. G. Imboden of Decatur is president of the Illinois Livestock Association and the other officers are:

First vice president—M. E. Franklin, Lexington.

Second vice president—E. C. Caverly, Toulon.

Third vice president—E. S. Keefer, Chicago.

Treasurer—Frank Prather Williams, Williams.

Mr. Drury is president of the Swine Breeders Association and the presidents of other subsidiary organizations are, R. J. Stonington, Sheep Breeders; C. J. Robain, Clifton, Horse Breeders; Edward P. Hall, Mechanicsburg, Cattle Feeders. The prominence given Mr. Drury in this state livestock organization gives further evidence of the fact that he is now widely recognized as an authority, especially on matters affecting the production of swine.

CELEBRATE 25TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Sunday was the twenty fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Gruber, of 504 East Lafayette avenue, and the occasion was observed in a fitting manner. About forty intimate friends spent the day at the Gruber home, among those from out of the city being Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Little and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ellerman and daughter, Clarence and Mayme Ruh, all of Bluffs, and J. C. Gruber. At the noon hour an excellent dinner was served and this feature of the day was one which all greatly enjoyed. The dining room was decorated with ferns and white carnations, and ferns were used as decorations throughout the house.

Mr. and Mrs. Gruber were the recipients of a number of handsome gifts, including articles of silver and cut glass. Their sons, Leo and Walter Gruber, sent them a purse of $25.

INTEREST CONTINUES IN HEALTH CRUSADE

Records Show Many of the Children Have Earned Advancement to New Honors.

Three weeks ago most of the children of Jacksonville, Chapin, Waverly, Murrayville and Lynnville became Pages in the Modern Health Crusade. The second step in the competition to become Knights Banneret was completed Friday, when the class records showed that many of the Pages had earned the title of Squires.

To become entitled to wear the badge of the Squire, the school children had to perform at least 54 health chores for each of the three weeks, following their enrollment as Pages. This makes a total of five weeks since the National Health Tournament began.

Badges were awarded to the persevering Crusaders on Monday. The 1918-19 badge of the Squire is a celluloid button in red, white and blue, picturing Liberty holding out the Caduceus, the ancient Greek emblem of healing. Her shield carries a double-barred red cross emblem of the Tuberculosis Association which is leading the Crusade. Two stars are shown about the "S", (for Squire.)

Thirty five counties in Illinois are organized to teach the school children health habits thru the Modern Health Crusade method. Never has a system been devised, school teachers and parents say, which induces the youngsters to care about personal hygiene as does this Crusade, with its interesting promotions from Page to Squire, Knight, and Knight Banneret. The classes which gain the largest promotion of Knights Banneret in the shortest time, will be awarded honor pennants by the National Tuberculosis Association.

Organization in other counties of the State is rapidly going on under the direction of Miss M. Grace Osborne, Director of School Activities of the Illinois Tuberculosis Association, which is conducting the campaign in this state.

Miss Osborne reports that the work of the Crusaders is proceeding her in many counties. Without a prepared introduction, the work creeps into certain schools, as the following letter from Clark County received by Miss Osborne shows:

"Will you please advise me where and how I may obtain copies of the Records of Health Chores, published by your Association Mrs. Edwards of Springfield, who was here recently, gave me a copy which I gave to my little cousin. Now the pupils in her room at school are anxious to do the chores, and possibly the school at a whole might be interested."

Joseph G. DeGoveia is engaged in remodeling the store room on the north side of the square. The building is owned by Daniel Bagan and he has leased it to the Graham Hardware Company. The company was organized a number of years ago and has done an excellent business in the Lindsay building at the corner of North Main and East North streets. Jonas Lashmet and J. I. Graham are the principal stockholders in the company and as they are men who have the entire confidence of the community they have thru the years built up a business of continually increasing proportions. The firm expects to be in the new quarters about April 1, where the excellent location will no doubt result in further growth of their business.

RELIGION HAS GREAT WORK IN THE FUTURE

G. B. Mangold Tells Audience That Church Has Large Duty to Perform in Future—Must Find Something to Take Place of Saloon.

One of the very best numbers of the Congressional church forum was enjoyed Sunday evening when G. B. Mangold of St. Louis spoke on socialized recreations. A short outline of the fine address is given.

The time has come when wealth is not measured by dollars and cents, but by character. The toll of the recent war has been simply frightful in the loss of life, limb, health and disability, devastation and woe and yet there are some compensating features and let us hope that this will be one.

One gain will be the socializing of governments. Heretofore far too much have governments been for the favored few. Even in our own land, in our cities and hamlets that has been too much the case. I doubt not here in Jacksonville; certainly so in St. Louis. In the future it will not be so easy to make war for the people who differ will have something to say and we may look for a league of nations which will have charge and see that the weak are not oppressed by the strong and that all have rights which will be respected.

War Does Much for Religion.—The war has done much for religion. Religion will hereafter not deal with the individual alone but with the community. We cannot attain to the best until our environments are right. The war has done much for tion. Heretofore the pursuit of knowledge has been too difficult and expensive. We are approaching the time when a fair high school course will be within the reach of all and a training which will fit a person for a life vocation.

Then too recreation comes in for full recognition. The church school, the community school, work in harmony to this end, as all go to make up the character of a man. The first two years of a child's life are a time of quiet and dependence; then comes the time when his activities call him forth and he seeks means of enjoyment by play; then school takes perhaps thirty hours a week and there is yet much time for play and then is the all important time to place about him good influences.

If the child's life is to be molded properly we must see to his play hours, his physical and mental development must have attention and in this team work is all important if we are to rear a generation of good citizens. It is all important to conserve the good traits and eliminate the bad.

In Chicago a good number of playgrounds with suitable apparatus were established and the police records showed a diminution of 70 per cent in juvenile misdemeanors within a few blocks of the grounds.

The investigations of the government show a frightful prevalence of social diseases in young men. In some cases whole divisions have been withdrawn from active service owing to the large percentage of affected men generally those who had contracted the trouble before entering the service. Great and good work has been done by the government in maintaining a high standard of morals in the army. To combat such evils we need active enjoyments; foot ball; baseball; volleyball and recreation generally which will promote physical soundness and occupy the time so there will be less desire and opportunity for evil deeds.

Must Have Recreation.—Then there are passive recreations; picture shows; theaters and the life. These should be of an elevating character if we are to have best results. Drinking and smoking may also be classed with passive recreations. Man is a social creature and hence the popularity of dancing and functions calling for gatherings of all characters. Especially should every place do its utmost to secure playgrounds, parks and all kinds of recreation centers for the people. Then there is the saloon which has in times past been such a social gathering place especially for the less favored classes. Now that it is to be abolished what will take its place? Remember; the devil is always on his job. The schools are in session thirty hours a week; the churches a few hours; the saloons are open 108 hours. Is it any wonder so many people go astray? Not only is drinking done in saloons but they are the hot-bed of many kinds of evil. The consequences of their existence are simply terrible. Is planning for the future we cannot leave out of the account the saloon; something should be found to take its place.

Think of this; 30 per cent of the young men examined for service were rejected for minor and avoidable defects. The government is doing much to develop young men and more is needed. There are good agencies which should be encouraged. The Y. M. C. A., the K. of C., the Y. W. C. A., and kindred organizations all are for good. Fill the mind with things good and the hours with wholesome recreation and evil will find no lodging place.

Need Substitute for Saloon.—I can hardly yet say what will be the substitute for the saloon. Commercial agencies alone will not build up mental and moral character. All kinds of public amusement should be closely censored; the public schools should do their part; I regret to say the Missouri legislature voted down a bill providing for recreation appointments in public schools. The schoolhouse should be a social center where all may gather and have useful programs and uplifting exercises; where young and old may find that which is congenial and beneficial.

If churches were kept open 108 hours a week and were managed as assiduously as the saloon think of the resulting benefit. Young and old should find recreation, pastime, enjoyment and improvement in connection with the church. The church should not content itself by merely striving to save individuals though that is all important, but it should seek to supply that which will make life bright and happy for young and old; recreation; social gatherings and all manner of improving conditions. It must to some extent provide substitute for the saloon.

Drug Evil Still Exists.—Remember too that temperance has not been accomplished by banishing the saloon. In New York there are 100,000 drug fiends and the evil is spreading everywhere and will increase with the abolition of liquor and it must be met and fought. If the church fails to help in this work it will fall short of its duty. We have the returning soldiers; those in our land who are down and out and feel the pinch; we have done its duty toward them. Recreation must be pursued and uplifting. It must be for old and young and of such a character that it will be attractive and under the right conditions and then we may look for a great uplift among our people and the rising generation especially.

Our first special display of spring styles will occur Wed. 19th. We invite ladies to visit our store and see this interesting display which embraces the newest fashions and most becoming styles in Dresses, Coats, Suits, Capes, Blouses, Millinery, Furs and Lingerie.

Fred Schell Writes to Mother

Baggarenes de Luchon, France.
Feb. 17, 1919.

Dear Mother:
I thought I would drop you a few lines to let you know that I am getting along all right and having a good time on my furlough. We left Limoges last Wednesday for Luchon and got here Thursday noon. We sure had some trip through the mountains.

This place is certainly pretty. Right up in the Pyrenees mountains, near the border of Spain. It is in the valley and any way we look we can see nothing but mountains and they are snow capped. Some of the peaks are up above the clouds. We took a hike with the Y. M. C. A. last Saturday over the mountains into Spain. It sure was some hike and the most of the way was thru snow. When we got to the top of the mountains we had to climb nearly straight up the last mile we went. We saw the big rock with a big cross cut in it and on one side of the cross was carved F. and on the other side E. It was the line that bordered France and Spain. I had one foot in France and the other in Spain at the same time. We didn't go very far over into Spain, but enough to say that we were in Spain.

Luchon is a great summer resort. This is where all the big bugs from the United States come to spend their summer vacations when they come to Europe, and most of the people around here can speak a little English.

There are lots of castles and churches and lookout towers around here. Some of them are many hundred years old. The weather is just like springtime down here in the valley but we can look up on the mountains and see lots of snow. There is a tramway running up to the top of one of these mountains but they say the track is covered with so much snow up near the top that they can't run more than two thirds of the way up but that they have a gang of workmen working up there to clear the track. I am going to wait a couple of days till they get the track cleared, then I am going to ride the cars up there and see what's up there. They certainly have a fine Y. M. C. A. here. It is in a big building called the Casino. This building is used in the summer as a big opera house. The Y. has hikes out through the mountains every day to different places and they certainly are interesting. Some times they go on the train for twenty or thirty miles around here to some of the old cities around though the mountains that are hundreds of years old. They have fine shows every night and plenty of music at the Y. good baths, plenty of tobacco and candy or anything else a fellow would want.

Well I guess I will have to tell you something about this leave. We left to stay in Luchon seven days from the time we got here till the time we start back. They gave us the finest hotels to stay in while we are here and we stand no calls; go to bed when we feel like; have the best to eat. Well in shorter words, we are just turned loose for seven days like in civil life. We don't have a thing to do only eat and sleep. We are staying in these hotels just like civilians would. Everything served and no beds to make, no dishes to wash, no time to get off the streets and nothing else to do. We don't pay any railroad fare, hotel bills, or anything and we get paid while we are here. It costs the government about four dollars a day per man to keep us in these hotels. There are about fifty of our company here together. I think we will go up through Paris on the way back. I was in Paris for three days about two months ago and if you believe me I sure had the time of my life while I was there.

Well, it would take all the paper they have at the Y to tell you all about it, so I guess I will wait till I get there. We expect to start for the states a few days after we get back to Limoges. I am going to bring some post cards and pictures of this place with me when I get back. They may give you some idea of what this place looks like.

As ever, yours,
Private Fred Schell.

The only reason mankind has not turned to God, the great physician, in the time of physical distress, is because of the material basis of its education. Mankind has been taught to look to God for help, but not to rely upon matter for the cure of matter and its like ills. Because of the seeming increasing power of false material education, mankind has been taught to depend upon the simplicity and adequacy of the spiritual laws of God applied to the discords of the flesh.

Jesus knew these laws, employed them, and laid upon all who were healed the duty to imitate his healing works. It may be argued that Jesus conferred the power to heal upon his contemporary disciples only. Yet he said unequivocally: "These signs shall follow them that believe." But if the contention was true, how did Paul, who was not

May it not be said truly that every individual that approaches the subject of Christian Science has a concept of Deity false some degree? Mrs. Eddy saw this, and she saw also that these unite concepts, these false beliefs about God, operate to hinder the progress of humanity—because they leave mankind to deal with effects without a true knowledge of Cause. She therefore chose seven prominent synonyms or close which she said were “intended to express the nature essence and wholeness of deity.” (Science and Health, pg. 465.) Most of these synonyms she took directly from the Bible, and all of them have Scriptural authority. These wonderful words are found in Science and Health (pg. 465) in answer to the question, "What is God?" "God is incorporeal, divine, supreme, infinite, Mind, Spirit, Soul, Principle, Life, Truth, Love." Note that not one of these words expresses a concept of God as finite, whether person or thing. John said, "God is Love," and love is not a person, not a thing, love is a principle. Jesus said to the woman at the well, "God is a Spirit," and spirit is not a person nor a thing, it is a principle. When the Psalmist referred to Deity as a God of truth, he did not speak of a person nor a thing, but of a principle. When Moses said of God, "he is thy life," and Job referred to God "in whose hand is the soul of every living thing," they used words which express in each case a principle. "Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus," said Paul, and showed that Mind is Principle and not a person nor a thing. These seven words each indicate, then, Principle, not person nor object, and are fully synonymous with God because they "express the nature, essence, and wholeness of Deity."

Now the outstanding character of Deity is His infinitude. God is infinite, incorporeal, that is, not limited, not bounded nor confined. The infinitude of God means, if it means anything at all, that God is one, without a second. Therefore God is the only Principle, the only Mind, the only Life, Truth, Love, the only Soul, the only Spirit. "The Lord he is God; there is none else beside him."

The revelation of "the larger thought of God" is enabling Christian Scientists to understand Him, to draw near to Him, to see his handiwork, and to reject what is unlike the divine nature. What ever the problem confronting the Christian Scientist he never rests until he arrives at God. God must be in all his thoughts, for the presence of good and the absence of evil.

It is often remarked how intimately Christian Scientists speak of God. We no longer regard Him fearfully, because we have learned that He is divine Love. We no longer imagine Him to be a magnified mortal. We have ceased to look for him geographically or astronomically, or to circumscribe him in any way. But if to us his habitation is no longer limited to place, we have gained the understanding of God's presence everywhere. If we have lost our fear of Deity, we have gained for Him love and allegiance. If we have ceased somewhat to believe in the power of evil, it is because we have learned something of the all-power of God. To all who thus are becoming acquainted with God are learning to trust him and are striving to be like him. Mrs. Eddy refers in the opening line of her text-book, "To those leaning on the sustaining infinite, today is big with blessings." (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, Preface VIII.)

Spiritual Sense and Heaven.
How do we know God and where do we find Him? Elijah in the mount before the Lord learned that God was not in the whirlwind, not in the earthquake, not in the fire—God was not in matter. He was in the still small voice. No man can understand God or know His abode through the five senses, for "no man hath seen God at any time." Because He is Spirit, He manifests Himself spiritually. "They that worship him," said Jesus, "must worship Him in spirit and in truth." So Mrs. Eddy wrote, (Science and Health), page (81): "Through spiritual sense only, man comprehends and loves

WHY DRUGGISTS RECOMMEND SWAMP-ROOT

For many years druggists have watched with much interest the remarkable record maintained by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great, kidney, liver and bladder medicine.
It is a physician's prescription. Swamp-Root is a strengthening medicine. It helps the kidneys, liver and bladder do the work nature intended they should do.
Swamp-Root has stood the test of years. It is sold by all druggists on its merit and it should help you. No other kidney medicine has so many friends.
Be sure to get Swamp-Root and start treatment at once.
However, if you wish first to test this great preparation, send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention the Jacksonville Daily Journal.

Deity." And again, (Science and Health, page 209) "Spiritual sense is a conscious constant capacity to understand God."

I recently read a report of a sermon by a clergyman on the subject, "Will Christian Scientists Go To Heaven?" No Christian Scientist can doubt that he will be in heaven just in the degree of his understanding of Jesus' statement, "For, behold, the Kingdom of God is within you." God and heaven are within the grasp of spiritual perception alone. Orthodox views received a just rebuke from a little child who, when asked where heaven is, replied "out in the graveyard." By inescapable logic he had concluded that if God and heaven were reached through death, as he had been taught, the cemetery must be the gateway to the Kingdom. The Christian Scientist to whose inquiry the child responded, was to show him that since heaven is God's home, and God is everywhere, heaven must be everywhere. She explained that God is Love, God is Good and therefore loves love and good and founded there is God and heaven; to the child came the joy of knowing God's eternal nearness, even His ever-presence.

Christian Science has come to restore the right concept of heaven, and to reveal it to be spiritual consciousness, and there is no one in this audience but may yield his material sense to that divine influence and now and here enter the realm of harmony. Man.

The restoration in consciousness of God as Spirit, or Mind, at once lifts thought to a higher contemplation of God's creation—man. Mankind's estimate of man has risen, of course, no higher than his estimate of God. False beliefs about God have resulted directly in erroneous concepts of man. So a finite, material sense of the Creator has been reflected in humanity's thought of man as finite and material. Christian Science comes to show the falsity of such belief and to restore the concept of man as spiritual, the image and likeness of Spirit.

Natural science declares man to be composed of chemical elements and to be confined to a physical body. It recognizes an immaterial factor in this, which it calls mind, but which it limits to brain matter, holding that form of matter responsible for mentality. Paul terms this animated brain matter the carnal mind, or the mind of the flesh, and further characterizes it as "enmity against God." Since this so-called mind comes in with matter, it is wholly dependent on matter for manifestation, and goes out with matter. Mrs. Eddy calls it, upon the named mortal man. This erring, sinning, dying, material concept of man plainly is not the man God made in His image and likeness for the likeness of Spirit could not be unspiritual, the likeness of God could not be imperfect. Divinity is never less than spiritual, while matter is never more than material. Spirit and matter are opposite in essence and qualities.

Popular theology holds that man is both material and spiritual; that he has a material body and a spiritual soul. It will not help to tell that man is both material and spiritual, since in that case, the destruction of the material body would result in the partial destruction of the man. Christian Science teaches that the real man, that the real man is wholly spiritual, and that the mind-matter combination, described by physical science, is a false belief, a combination described by theology, are false beliefs about man. Indeed the destruction of the physical body clearly shows it to be utterly unlike the infinite, imperishable Spirit.

Jesus furnished an illustration both of the real man and of the unreal nature of physical matter, after proving its unreal character by disorganizing and overcoming physical law, he separated himself from matter and disappeared. Does any one imagine that in the ascension Jesus was taken up as a mortal, material man? What then became of the physical body which he ultimately proved it to be, a false concept of finite sense which disappeared in the light of spiritual understanding? Hear the testimony of St. John: "He is not of the world, but is of the world. And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof; but he that doth the will of God abideth forever." If "all that is in the world," mortal man and the physical universe, is "not of the Father," what claim can materiality have to reality? If the world is the author of the things that are in the world, as St. John declares, it is conclusive that God is not the author of the material universe nor physical man. Because they lack a divine Cause, the material universe and mortal man can have no reality for without him, nothing that was made." St. John's declaration that the things that are in the world are "not of the Father," indicates that materiality only substitutes itself, in belief, for the real truth, the spiritual universe, the spiritual man, and merely counterfeits genuine being. Evil.

From the foregoing it is evident that Christian Science does not hold God responsible for the creation of that which Paul defined as "enmity against God." God is not responsible, directly or indirectly, for sin, for disease nor death. The explanation of evil must be sought outside of infinite God. Whence then comes this enmity against God? People who are in trouble are not greatly concerned in the philosophic explanation of the origin of evil. Their interest centers in getting rid of evil, and the triumph of Christian Science is that it does just that. It is a satisfactory fact that God does not countenance evil nor include it among His very good works, and therefore that evil is unreal.

However, evil is accounted for logically in accordance with the law of supposed opposites. One of the synonyms of Deity, you will recall, is Truth. God being infinite Truth, there is evidently nothing beyond Truth's infinitely good and true manifestation. To bring evil into the equation it becomes necessary to suppose the opposite of infinite good, but remember that this supposition, this opposite of truth, is a deception, is possible only so long as it appears to be true; it must masquerade as truth, or counterfeit truth, in order to gain credence. Christian Science, therefore, has unlocked the "mystery of evil." The mystery of evil is just like any other mystery—ignorance of the whole problem of evil is just one of ignorance, or absence of understanding. All the trouble in the world is due to misunderstanding, to false estimates of God and the universe. In Christian Science men are learning neither to ignore nor to be ignorant of the origin of evil, but are addressing themselves to the task of recognizing evil as a lie, eliminating the lie from consciousness and replacing it with good. Evil is thus losing its claim upon thought as the spiritual understanding of God and man is attained.

"But," you say, "Christian Science has not done away with evil. It's still there." My friends, Christian Scientists already have learned much about the unreality of evil and to that degree have disposed of it. It is true that although Christian Science shows man to be the image of God, perfect and spiritual, man may still seem to be imperfect. Some forms of evil, when unmasked, may continue to appear, just as the sun continues to appear to rise in the east, even after one discovers that it really stands still and the illusion no longer deceives. In like manner, mortality unmasked, is shown if its seeming power and reality.

Evil may seem to have its day, but because it is perishable, its destruction is inevitable. Because it is a lie about something true, it must go out, and Truth must be its destroyer. Remember that truth never destroys anything true; its destructive action is exerted always upon that which is unreal. Every Christian Scientist applies the Truth to a lie, and thereby advances by that much the day of perfect spiritual understanding. "They shall all know me (God) from the least of them unto the greatest of them."

Salvation and Jesus Christ.
In cleaning out the rubbish of untrue theories and building again the true and constructive force. It repeats the restorative ministry of Christ, who places Christ's axis, as the said, was to "destroy the works of the devil, evil, and who 'went down doing good.' He who was named Saviour gave a new meaning to salvation. He who came to 'save his people from their sins' applied the restorative power of the Christ, Truth, to every sort of evil; thus he healed disease and sin in the process. As in Jesus' time, popular theology today views salvation chiefly as a preparation for the hereafter. But Jesus said, 'I am come that they might have life, and that they might live it more abundantly.' Christian Science has shown to humanity the saving grace of Christian healing, proving that Christianity is a religion not to die by, but to live by.

Where, in the scheme of salvation, does Christian Science place Christ? In the words of Peter, "There is none other name under heaven given among men whereby we must be saved." Jesus is the one individual in the world's history who has attained the perfect state of spiritual perfection. By his understanding of God, Jesus proved that man is perfect, spiritual, indestructible, and immune to every law of matter, sin, disease and death, thus proving their nothingness. He took every human being, in the process from sense to soul (Science and Health, page 566), and left the path so plain that the wayfarer, blind fool, shall not err therein. What he proved was for all mankind, for he himself said, "I am the way."

By this it will be understood that Jesus was not God, but was, as he himself affirmed, the son of God. In Science and Health (page 482), we read: "Jesus was the highest human concept of the perfect, spiritual and spiritualized man, who was worthy to bear the title Messiah, or Christ. Again (Science and Health, page 289), Mrs. Eddy has defined Christ as 'the divine manifestation of God, who comes to the flesh to destroy incarnate error.' With Jesus the Christ was so preponderant that the material creation, out of this cup pass, Jesus was able to say 'not my will but thine be done.' Let the mortal made in His image and likeness be the representative of divinity. It was this Christ that caused Jesus to say 'I have obeyed the Father, and he has not come unto you.' The restorative Truth will not become operative in your consciousness. In other words, you will continue to cling to your human personality and will not receive the divine Principle which governs it."

Christian Science teaches personal salvation through all Christ. Jesus lives; so that each individual is to work out his own salvation from all error by the example Jesus furnished. Christian Science accepts the essentials of Christianity as found in the spiritual record of the life and teaching of Christ Jesus, but restores and emphasizes the spiritual import and overcomes the fleshly principle taught and ordinances he established. Above all, Christian Science teaches that the essential of Christianity is the individual practice more than profession.

Prayer.
The modus operandi by which Christian Science fulfills its restorative ministry is prayer. By prayer sickness is healed, sin is destroyed and harmony restored. By prayer ignorance is replaced with understanding. By prayer we draw near to God and enter into the heritage of his son. Prayer is that process by which false beliefs are destroyed and right concepts restored. To know the Truth is true prayer. Therefore the Christian Scientist who prays does not ask God for any material thing. He seeks to apprehend what is already existent and bestowed. He asks for guidance for wisdom, for true knowledge. So Solomon prayed for an understanding heart. So Hagar, a stranger in the desert, fearing for the life of her child, prayed the prayer which opened her blind eyes and restored her to the water of life. Such prayer has never failed, for it is the prayer of spiritual sense, that is, the sense that is able to understand God, and the spiritual, real man.

Christ Jesus, in teaching how to pray, said: "Whatever things ye desire when ye pray, believe that ye receive them, and ye shall receive." True prayer then is comprised in asking and receiving. It is both desire and realization—desire to know the will of God, and to express that will in daily life, desire to overcome all that is contrary to good, realization of the presence of God and his manifestation. Prayer in Christian Science includes the answer, and thus were not so the loving Father would stand convicted of capriciousness and favoritism. The kingdom of God is available to all who claim their divine heritage.

A little girl I know furnished an adequate illustration of the restorative prayer of Christian Science when she freed herself from the bondage of sickness. "If God did not make it, how could I be it?" Very little process entered into her argument against the false sense that she was blind, but she rejected the erroneous concept and realized the allness of good. She sought relief, and found it in the Truth of being and knew that she and God are inseparable. She did not wonder why she was sick, she did not wonder why she was blind, and did not offer the false defense that she was still mortal, she did not think of herself as in the flesh, she wasted no time in self-justification, self-pity nor self-condemnation. Her thought turned naturally to God, divine Love, her only source of relief, naturally as the flower turns to the sun, and she was freed. Do wonder that Jesus declared the kingdom of God open only to the childlike thought?

The highest object of prayer and its ultimate answer is the attainment of the consciousness of man's inseparability from his Maker—God. Ceaseless prayer is the demand of Scripture and this is possible only as constant prayer of high belief. To be in His image and likeness, to be present with God. Of this supreme concept of answered prayer, Mrs. Eddy has written:
"Oh! Thou hast heard my prayer; And art my high best;—Thou here, and everywhere." (Misc. Writings, page 38.)
In the presence of God there is no unsatisfied desire.
Christian Science vs. Suggestive Therapeutics.
It is now a well known fact that Christian Science restores the sick. There are those, however, who repeat the ancient mistake of attributing the miracles of Christian healing to the human mind, through suggestion. This fellow does not cast out devils, but by suggestion the prince of devils, but Jesus disclaimed the human mind to be a factor in his work and insisted that he was the "finger of God." Method, Christ Jesus fully proved that the divine Mind alone was the healing power in his practice. He said, "I can of mine own self do nothing." The Father that dwelleth in me, he doeth the works. The Beelzebub method is illustrated today in the prevalent material methods of treating the sick and in the so-called mental sciences. One and all such systems rely upon the supposed action of the human mind. Although materia medica the medium of matter is employed, nevertheless ordinary medical practice is little else than the practice of mental suggestion. Indeed the trend of modern medical thought is toward a frank admission of the suggestive character of material medicine. Belief in the method, as well as belief in the physician plainly is requisite for successful medical practice. When practicing medicine I have given, experimentally, a hypodermic injection of pure water to a patient wild with pain, and have watched him go quietly to sleep. The operation would have been no less an instance of suggestive therapeutics had I injected the actual drug endowed through general belief with pain relieving power. Medicine constituted in mental consent—it is whatever mortal mind believes it to be. Anciently human belief bestowed upon material objects supernatural power. A relic of such "medicine" is found in the magic practice of wearing amulets. Many people believe that a buckeye carried in the pocket has power to prevent rheumatism. It is not unusual to see a child with a piece of red flannel about its neck. That, many will tell you, is good for sore throat, and some seem to be limited to human credulity. It is perhaps within the facts to state that there is nothing in heaven above or in earth beneath, or in the waters under the earth, but has been used as medicine upon which in the kitchen is a food, becomes a medicine in the shop of the apothecary. True, mortal mind has usually obtained its ideas about as fast as it has adopted them, but throughout the history of material medicine it has sought to find power in the kitchen, in the materia medica, to modern serum of horses' blood, but the same mental consent has been required to furnish each generation with its ever changing pharmacopoeia.

Mental suggestion, and Christian Science are opposites. The one is supposed action of the human mind, which, being enmity against God, works only evil continually. The other is the power of God, divine Mind, and is wholly good. Christian Science has come to reassure mankind that all mental suggestions are mesmeric, wholly false and can have no more reality and no more power than is bestowed upon them in belief. Christian Science teaches how to free one's self, and others, from the belief of any kind of power, the power of the one Mind—God; how to separate mental suggestions from the laws of divine Principle, how to eradicate false mental pictures from consciousness and to prevent them forming there; how to overcome fear; how to be unresponsive to sin. "But if with the finger of God cast out devils, no doubt the kingdom of God is come upon you." Herein is the Christian method of healing found supreme—it not only heals the sick but reforms the sinner. If Christian Science did no more than eliminate the sinfulness of suggestion, in all its forms, it is proved the greatest restorative force the world has ever known. In Christian Science physical and social hygiene, sanitation, prophylaxis and therapeutics begin at their logical beginning in Mind, so that Christian Scientists are learning to think cleanly, normally, correctly, and thus to live clean, wholesome and normal lives. A sound mind produces and maintains a sound body as surely as effect follows cause.

A Practical Idealism.
If Christian Science were to project merely a metaphysical system of the origin about God and man, it would be the most impractical religion ever offered to a sin-burdened and diseased race. But the idealism of Christian Science has a practical application to human interests, because God is the infinite Principle. He is the source of all law. If, therefore, human affairs are to be ordered out of chaos, a man must be governed by the law of God. This law is spiritual and its operation in human consciousness is to spiritualize thought. To the degree of his spirituality, therefore, is man redeemed from the discord of matter. Where a man learns something of the truth about God and about himself, when he begins to understand that the spring of God man is the expression of Spirit and possesses only the divine spiritual attributes, he begins to see the unreality of the false belief that he is subject to the so-called laws of matter. He begins to see that discord is no proper part of his experience, and that by realizing the facts of spiritual being he can overcome all in his experience that is unlike God.

Thus he begins to take up the work of eliminating from thought the unspiritual qualities and of replacing them with the spiritual. He learns to reject as spurious thoughts that involve sin, disease, inharmonious limitation, because all such thoughts are not spiritual, and to realize his divine heritage, dominion over all. As this restoration of spiritual concepts goes on in the individual, the man is changed. He learns that man is well because God is whole, and man is his expression. He, therefore, no longer accents the domination of fear, false laws of health, hygiene, sanitation, but holds himself superior to these so-called laws of matter on the ground that God made man subject only to the laws of Spirit. Since the human mind and body are one, the body improves as the thought is improved, and health becomes normal and established.

In like manner such an individual finds his thought about sin undergoing a radical change. He finds that sin is of the carnal mind alone, and that as he comes into possession of the Mind of Christ, the fear of sin, the dread of punishment, and the ignorance of sin are destroyed. Thus sin and its effects disappear and righteousness is restored.
The Christian Scientist finds also his concepts of business improve. He begins to see that the real business is the activity of right thinking and belongs to the divine Mind. God is therefore the only employer, or proprietor, of business, and is wholly good. Thus the fears, doubts, discords, limitations and failures present or possible in the old way of thinking are displaced by right concepts and business is restored.

The Christian Scientist touches with its restorative ministry every human activity, raising consciousness to a higher level of the spirit and leading thought into new and brighter paths, paths of health, paths of holiness.

Triumph of Good Over Evil.

The story of religion is the history of the world. To the student and thinker today is momentous with history in the making, with prophesies fulfilled. The restoration in human consciousness of the spiritual ideal has stirred to their depths the forces of evil which are ever at war with good. War is evil's self-destruction, and because it is so, how infinitely better is a just war than a "false conventional peace" (Miscellany, page 21.) In the triumphant march of Principle against the hosts of evil where
